ABOUT US

OUR MISSION

Foster hope and support post traumatic growth for veterans.

We believe there is no better medicine than being in a community with other veterans and their families, rediscovering purpose, and serving a cause which is greater than ourselves.

THE NEED

Issues confronting veterans include homelessness, mental health conditions, substance abuse, and wounds to the soul, caused by military service. As the needs of veterans evolve, we've done our best to evolve and meet them. We have learned that medical doctors can repair physical wounds, psychologists can help heal the mind, but there are very few resources to address soul injuries.
